Sharing experiences of everyday life with our ASD children

ASDF Newsletter Issue 4 March 2009

Forum News

The chat room on the forum has really picked up over the recent weeks. Most chat sessions we are now getting 10+ people in the chat room which provides a nice atmosphere and community spirit. If you have not been in the chat room before please feel free to give it a go. It can be fast moving and a bit confusing at times if your not use to it but most people find after a few sessions in there they feel right at home. And we don't just talk ASD it also provides a nice group of people with different interests and personalities for a general chit chat.

Don't forget if you want to support the forum the best way to do this is by doing your online shopping through the banner at the top of the main page. For everything you buy through this link ASDF gets a small % of commission. And every little really does help.

Comic

My online comic should now be available on the site for anyone who wants to have a read. I hope you enjoy it.

Help

This month no one has submitted anything to go in the newsletter so its a bit shorter than we would have liked. If you have any news, comments, thoughts or if your child has done something special or drawn a picture you think is special then please send it in to me Munchkin so I can print it in next months issue. PM me on the forum or email 360Munchkin@gmail.com

Well done

A big well done to Janey and Chris_B for getting last months dingbat correct. They both Pmed me the correct answer at the exact same time! And the correct answer was...
Doctor Dolittle
